C. ALLISON'S PATENT JOINT

This Superior Tabing is furnished with heavy sockets, and is out with a vanishing screw thread, corresponding exactly with the thread in the socket, so that whon screwed up it has a bearing the whole length of the point; and the absance of a deep thread on the tube at the end of the socket obviates the liability to break at that point from the vibration caused by the action of the pump.

Buch length and socket is stamped with our index mark, and is carefully tested before altiputed with a hydraulic prossure of 1,300 pounds to the square inch.

upon our State loans. He was also the champion of the South Street Bridge bill, on and of the measures securing to the judges of our courts something like adequate compensation.

In 1870 he also succeeded in passing the act for the collection of delinquent taxes in this city. Mr. Connell, during the rebellion, took an active part in securing the passage, by our Legislature, of those measures of public defense which so fully prepared our State for the great struggle. At the close of the war he declined a position at Washington, offered by President Johnson, and did not appear dearrous of entering political life further than to serve the interest of his constituents in the State Senate. A brother of the decessed, John Connell, was quite a prominent man in his day, and during the negotiations of the tamous treaty of Ghent resided in that and of the measures securing the samous treaty of Ghent resided in that city, where he formed an intimate acquaintance with John Quincy Adams and Houry Clay. with sorrow of the death of Hon. George Connell, member of the State Senate from the Fourth District, which took place at five c'clock yesterday morning; at his late residence, Sixty-first street and Darby road, West Philadelphia. By the death of Mr. Connell, the people, not only of Philadelphia, but of this State have lost an experienced legislator, a man of sterling integrity, a friend and able advocate of all philanthropic measures intended for the good of the public.

The early life of the decased was passed among those soanes calculated to fit him for the after struggles of life in which he was so signally successful. He was born in 1815, and consequently, at the time of his death was fifty-six years old, his birth-place being an old fort known as Ryerson's Station, which was erected the latter part of last century as a protection against the Indians. Here he acquired the elements of his education, and afterward attended Washington and Madison Colleges in the wastern article. he acquired the eliments of his education, and afterward attended Washington and Madison Colleges in the western portion to this State. From 1836 to 1843 he engaged in business as a merchant at Pittsgaged in business as a merchant at Pittsturn and then removed to this city.

Watson, then county and to, many maning the claims and ted by him payable on the sole approval of William M. Tweed.

The regues went immediately to work.

Claims were adjusted and warrant ingaged in business as a merchant at Pittsburgh, and then removed to this city, where he entered the real catate business on a large scale, for sixteen years, meantime adding largely to his already large stock of legal knowledge in the office of Heury Walnoc, E-q, publisher of the "Legal Intelligencer."

In 1852 and 1853 he was dispatched to the southweat by the attorneys of some foreign bondholders to accrue the payment of their indebtedness, which amounted to several millions of dollars. He was very successful on this business trip; and on his return was offered a lucrative position in one of the leading houses in this city, which offer he declined. Mr. Connell first began to take an active interest in political affairs in 1844 Previous to that time he had been a Democrat, but absundend the party on the anti-slavery question, as upon the issue he opposed the annexation of Texas. In ened by his tour through the Southern States, and the Republican party, from the time of its organization, found him an earnest advocate of its principles. In the hour of defeat or victory, from that time forward, he was a consistent, conscientious and earnest Republican. has practiced the same shallow trick and placed his real estate in the name of his partner, J. P. Beatty, only that he might In 1857 he first became a caudidate for office, receiving the Republican nomination for the State Senate from the Fourth District. He was elected by a large majority, which was maintained and increased at each succeeding election. The last session of the Senate closed his twelfth year, and on the 10th of October, of the present year, he was re-elected by a majority of over seven thousand votes for the next three votes.

He always took a deep interest in matters pertaining to Philadelphia, and on this account became very popular in his district. Very soon after he had become permanently established in the real estate in the neme of his partoer, J. P. Beatty, only that he might interactly transfer it egain to Woodward was for tracked down and brought back to be punished, and made to disgorge. BACK SUCTION PREVENTAYS.

Which entirely prevents the in-

being drawn.

It is a well-known fact to oil well operators that upon wells where gas pumps are used, it is necessary to preserve as nearly a perfect vacuum as possible, and that no air should be let into the well at any time when it can possibly be avoided consequently y benever the tubing us down from a well, it is the cause of great lipury to it, as the stuffing box being then necessarily opened, the stuffing box being then of saveral drawfor the oil rock and gas vens, and consequently causing the oil and gas to rush block to a great distance. It along anot always takes several drawfor the property of the stuffing resumed for a well to be brought back to its former condition, and oftentimes it takes several weeks, and quite frequently wells have been almost completely runned by the air being thus let in while drawing tubing. The Back Stacton Preventive is attached to the stuffing box, and works in such a way that it completely shufts up the space be ween the stuffing box and tubing so effectually that not a pa tuck of all the stuffing drawn and replaced.

It stupples a want long falt and is without question one of the most valuable inventions of the day to those engaged in the oil producing of the day to those engaged in the oil producing of the day to those engaged in the oil producing of the day to those engaged in the oil producing of the day to those engaged in the oil producing of the day to those engaged in the oil producing the oil and the stuffing the oil and the other of the stuffing the oil and the oil producing the oil and the oil and the oil producing the oil and the oil and the oil producing the oil and the oil and the oil producing the oil and the oil and
